LOOK OVER THESE FIGURES.

Since the court house was constructed the commissioners have spent annually an average of $1,166 for repairs and improvements on the court house, as the report of the appraisers shows. Read and contemplate the following items of expenditures taken from the records. See what enormous prices were paid for most of this work:

Old heater.....	$2,500
New heater.....	2,300
Cement in basement.....	600
Furniture.....	7,700
Steel ceiling.....	800
Bell.....	300
Cistern.....	275
Cement walls.....	450
Three safes.....	4,000
Stone walls in front.....	550
Bedford stone.....	620
Walks and street improvements.....	1,800
Iron fence.....	3,850
Lightning rods.....	175
Copper gutters.....	725
Total.....	$28,100

The men who were chiefly responsible for this lavish expenditure of the people's money are against the removal of the county seat.

WHETHER Tom Taggart is reelected mayor of Indianapolis or not the scandals of his administration which have been exposed will put a stop to the talk about him as a candidate for governor. The state democracy in all probability will look for a candidate who will not be so handicapped.

The position of the Indianapolis News in the city campaign now in progress is peculiar. It admits the wide open policy of the Taggart administration as to gambling and other vices, but justifies its support of Taggart for reelection on the ground that Mr. Harding makes no pledges as to what his policy will be. In other words the News presumes in advance that Mr. Harding would violate his oath of office should he be elected. Our observation has been the candidate who fears that it is necessary to pledge his constituents in advance that he will keep his oath of office is not made of the right kind of stuff.

COMMISSIONER BURRELL and "me to" Gibson have been trying to get round the fact that extensive improvements of the interior of some of the county offices have been recently considered. They know very well that they asked for and received propositions during this year for improvements in the Auditor's office, the bids for which work in this one office ranged above a thousand dollars. A man from St. Louis and another from Indianapolis were there to look after this work. The auditor will not deny that extensive improvements in his office have been considered during the present year. These improvements will unquestionably be made very soon if the county seat remains at Brownstown, and the enormous expense for the same will be paid for by the taxpayer of the county. If the county seat is removed Jackson township will pay the entire expense of erecting new and modern buildings. Other townships will have no part of the expense to bear.

Mrs. F. M. Swope and sister, Mrs. Tucker, of Madison, came here this forenoon to visit the former home and friends of the former.

Ed. N. McDowell, general agent for Gilmore and Leonard's "Hogan's Alley" Company, which appears at the Opera House, Oct. 15, is in town billing extensively for this attraction. Mr. McDowell is no stranger here having brought several successful companies, all of which giving the best satisfaction and it is safe to predict that "Hogan's Alley" will exceed all previous ones.

The name of the "century plant" is misleading. It blooms, not once in a century, but once in 10 or 12 years, then dies.

A Portsmith (O.) dispatch says trains on the Norfolk and Western railroad are compelled to carry water in tank cars for use of engines for nearly 150 miles.

LUTEGERT TRIAL

Evidence of the Prosecution Now Before the Jury.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The evidence of the prosecution in the trial of Adolph L. Luettger is now before the jury. The state rested its case yesterday. The closing testimony was of the same impeaching character that marked the evidence of the preceding day.

Professor George Dorsey had his innings and he made matters unpleasantly warm for Dr. Alport. Professor Dorsey could have talked for hours upon the subject of osteology. He was primed with bristling facts concerning bones, but the prosecution confined the young osteological expert to matters tending to counteract and refute the statements made by Dr. Alport, the chief expert for the defense.

Professor Dorsey called attention to the fact that during his examination Dr. Alport had identified the femur of a gorilla as that of a man; that he had identified a human femur as a hog's femur; had declared that sesamoid of a buffalo was the patella of a dog and had given it as his opinion that a piece of the temporal bone of a Shepherd dog was the temporal of a monkey. Dr. Alport listened to this evidence with a half incredulous smile playing upon his lips. But the evidence was not productive of anything bordering upon mirth with the attorneys for the defense. Ex-Judge Vincent cross-examined the witness briefly without material benefit and let him go.

POLICE FORCE SQUABBLE.

Four Councilmen Arrested at the Instance of the Captain of the Force.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 9.—Four councilmen—Demond, Mader, Spear and Weber—were arrested yesterday for contempt of court on warrants sworn out by Captain Crandall of the metropolitan police force. The council had refused to recognize the new force and Crandall brought proceedings to compel them to pay his salary. The offending councilmen had five days in which to file an appeal bond. The bond was filed and then Crandall had them arrested for disobeying the mandate.

POLICEMAN BEATEN.

Charles Hyssal Arrested Just as the Ceremony Was to Begin.

POMEROY, O., Oct. 9.—Charles Hyssal and Bert Wines, two members of the gang that has been terrorizing the inhabitants of Meigs and surrounding counties, have been arrested near here under sensational circumstances. Hyssal was standing beside Miss Georgia Manley, at the home of Squire Long, awaiting the words that would have made them man and wife when the officers suddenly appeared on the scene and made prisoners of the trio before any resistance could be offered. Wines, who was a guest at the intended wedding, started to run, but was captured after leading the officers a spirited chase.

Rewards aggregating $2,000 have been offered for the capture and conviction of these two men.

$200,000 Fire at Gibsonburg.

GIBSONBURG, O., Oct. 9.—Fire broke out in a saloon here last night which resulted in the destruction of the postoffice, the Odd Fellows block and a number of business houses and residences. Loss, $200,000.

WEATHER.

Indiana and Illinois—Fair and cooler. Ohio—Fair and cooler; local showers on the lakes.

CENTRAL STATES NEWS.

Prevalence of diphtheria at Lima, O., is reported as abating.

The town of Paragon, in Morgan county, Ind., has been incorporated.

Capitalists are preparing to start a beet sugar factory at Canal Dover.

Fire destroyed the school building at Woollcottville, Ind. Loss, $10,000.

Martinsville (Ind.) dogs are wearing muzzles by order of the mayor.

Mrs. Judith Evans of Troy, Ky., was burned to death by her clothing becoming ignited from a cookstove.

The wife of James Dunaway of Irvine, Ky., aged 19, drank carbolic acid because her husband left her. She will die.

Richmond (Ind.) city council will be asked to pass an ordinance to prevent veranda exhibitions of prizefights.

Residents of Jeffersonville, Ind., claim that the blasting of rock on the Ohio river fails to cause damage to their houses.

Ed. Dehmann, a book agent, was badly beaten by a farmer near Walton, Ky., who accused him of insulting his women folks.

DIPLOMATIC AUCTIONS.

Erie-a-brac Bargains Eagerly Sought at the Shrine of the Red Flag.

There is a graceful custom among foreign diplomats at the capital that we may as well trench upon. I refer to the auction sale which frequently befalls on the occasion of the recall of one of our alien ambassadors or ministers.

For two weeks before their excellencies decamp the local papers reveal in a long and lurid "ad." recounting the recall of the ambassador or minister and declaring how on a certain day all people so minded are invited to appear and contest at public vendue for a dazzling list of plunder in said "ad." set forth.

Prime among the properties for sale you will notice wines and many a thing besides that are as articles of commerce highly tariffed. But in these cases courtesy has held the tariff at bay. All of a legation's wines and cigars and furniture—in fact, everything of a personal sort that a legation causes to be brought to America—is passed scot-free at our customs. One will readily discern that a ripe profit might be made to roll pleasantly up at one of these untariffed legation sales. Our own tradespeople must, however, pay the fiddler in each notable instance.

At these sales suddenly turns stoutly out. The bidding is hot and fast and high. There is nothing so lusty for by a certain sort of American, cringingly numerous hereabout, as a wine which has been justified by an ambassador's taste, or a piece of furniture or bric-a-brac which has been soiled by noble and distinguished contact. And, therefore, these legation auctions furnish the most heated bid contests. And many a fool is fleeced.

It is also to be remarked that these sales string out in endless fashion, day following day, as fools flock to be bunched. The stock, whether of wine or furniture or cast off noble garments, never runs low. The widow's store of oil showed no better staying powers. As long as custom hangs about the chancery shanty, the red flag floats and the stock of goods to be disposed of flows by with current unabated.

For, mark you, rather than disappoint or send any full-hearted alien chaser away from this sale with aching heart and empty hands, the auctioneer each night moves in a new stock to replace the disappearance of the day before. Each morning the legation rooms are as unstripped, the cabinets as full of bric-a-brac, the bins as replete with rare old wines as at the beginning.

Thus it runs forward until no more sheep appear to be shorn and even the toadies have enough. Then the flag comes down and the legation sale is at an end.—New York Journal.

Lady Dufferin, in her amusing book, "Viceroy Life In India," gives some good examples of "baboo" English. One of the natives was told to write an essay on the horse in an examination, and this was the result: "The horse is a very noble animal, but when irritated ceases to do so."

FOREIGN VISITORS.

Seymour has within her gates representatives of the five daughters of the Mikado, the hereditary sovereign of Japan.

About fifty ladies had the fortunate pleasure of meeting them at the lovely home of Mrs. Will Humbert whose charming hospitality added much to the occasion.

The princess and four sisters wore magnificent costumes, beautiful in their oriental splendor, and their manners were grace itself.

They treated the guests to some of their own country's amusements and music after which they served each one present with a "none such" cup of tea, wafer and sweet-meat. They express their intention of returning this winter in full concert.

If you eat what you like, and digest it, you will surely be strong and healthy.

But if you don't digest it, you might almost as well not eat, for what good can your food do you if it doesn't nourish you?

If you find that you can't digest it there is a simple help for your stomach.

It is Shaker Digestive Cordial, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon. It has never failed to cure the worst case of indigestion.

Strength and health come from the food you eat, after it has been digested and has gone into the blood.

The best tonic is digested food. The best aid to digestion, Shaker Digestive Cordial.

When you have acid eructations nausea, headache, wind, dizziness, offensive breath, or any other symptoms of dyspepsia, Shaker Digestive Cordial will cure you.

SKATING IN OLD DAYS.

How the Sport Became Popular in New York City.

While skating is now one of the most popular sports of the winter season it is only comparatively a few years since it has become so in this city. When the Central Park was being constructed in 1860 and the small artificial lake at Fifty-ninth street was nearly completed, the park commissioners announced that it would be thrown open for the use of skaters. A few men took advantage of the invitation, but women could not be induced to go on the ice. The skates then in use were of the most antique pattern, some of the runners extending a long way in front of the foot, ending in a ring-like curl. In a crowd these skates were quite dangerous, and the first year skating was anything except popular.

During the next winter the larger lake at the upper end of the mall was in such condition that it could be used for skating. Here there was more room for the sport, but still the women could not be induced to venture on the ice. A number of gentlemen determined to overcome this prejudice and organized the New York Skating Club, having a regulation patterned skate, almost even with the sole of the boot, which was laced up tight to the ankle, while the objectionable strap was done away with, the runner being fixed to the sole while in use by a ball and socket and held firmly with a clamp. These became popular that winter with the men, and a lighter kind was made for women. The prejudice, however, still existed among the latter, until the club invited a lady, who was a fine skater, from Portland, Me., to visit the Central Park and skate with the club. This lady wore a pretty and appropriate dress, similar to that worn in winter by women skaters in Europe, and she created such a sensation by her artistic skating as to attract much notice. The result was that before the season ended several young ladies were induced by the club to venture on the ice, and the season of 1862-3 found many, with pretty costumes, enjoying the sport.

A series of carnivals were arranged by the club during the following season, and skating in the evening became one of the fashionable winter amusements.

HENS AND IRON.

A French physician has invented a method by which he says iron can be given in large doses. Hens, he noticed, can digest considerable quantities of iron and then render it back, through the albumen of their eggs, in a form which is easily digested by the weaker stomach of mankind. So he feeds his hens with what he calls "a very absorbent salt of iron," mingled with grains of wheat, and they lay eggs extremely rich in iron already digested.

THE MAN WASHINGTON.

Lecturing on Washington before the Buffalo Contemporary Club, Professor Moses Coit Tyler of Cornell said that, while the great Virginian's reputation as a soldier and statesman was safe, he was in real danger from the humorists of the future. This was owing to the fact that Washington, the real man, had never been very well known and is now almost forgotten, having been replaced in the popular mind by a myth type almost equally compounded of the heroic, the priggish and the statuesque. Too often he was spoken of as a person who never said a naughty word, never did a naughty thing, who cut down that cherry tree with his own little hatchet, who never lied, apparently because he could not, who never laughed out loud, who never swore, whose behavior was always dignified and proper, and whose conduct was always such as might be expected of the good little boy in the Sunday school. These myths of exaggeration and adulation had their origin in the extraordinary qualities of the man, his extraordinary achievements and the gratitude of the republic which he was instrumental in founding. Modest, reserved and generally grave, the statement that he never laughed or smiled during the war of the Revolution had been shown to be false. Underlying these myths were discovered Washington's great reserve, formality, thoroughness and self-control.—New York Times.

DIPLOMATIC AUCTIONS.

Eric-a-brac Earrings Eagerly Sought at the Shrine of the Red Flag.

There is a graceful custom among foreign diplomats at the capital that we may as well trench upon. I refer to the auction sale which frequently befalls on the occasion of the recall of one of our alien ambassadors or ministers.

For two weeks before their excellencies decamp the local papers revel in a long and lurid "ad," recounting the recall of the ambassador or minister and declaring how on a certain day all people so minded are invited to appear and contest at public vendue for a dazzling list of plunder in said "ad," set forth.

Prime among the properties for sale will notice wines and many a thing besides that are as articles of commerce highly tariffed. But in these cases courtesy has held the tariff at bay. All of a legation's wines and cigars and furniture—in fact, everything of a personal sort that a legation causes to be brought to America—is passed scot-free at our customs. One will readily discern that a ripe profit might be made to roll pleasantly up at one of these untariffed legation sales. Our own tradesmen must, however, pay the fiddler in each notable instance.

At these sales snobdom turns stoutly on. The bidding is hot and fast and high. There is nothing so lusty for a certain sort of American, cringingly numerous hereabout, as a wine which has been justified by an ambassador's taste, or a piece of furniture or tricorne which has been soiled by noble and titled contact. And, therefore, these legation auctions furnish the most heated bid combats. And many a fool is fleeced.

It is also to be remarked that these sales string out in endless fashion, day following day, as foals flock to be bunched. The stock, whether of wine or furniture or cast of noble garments, never runs low. The widow's store of oil showed no better staying powers. As long as custom hangs about the charters shout, the red flag floats and the stock of goods to be disposed of flows by with current unabated.

For, mark you, rather than disappear or send any full hearted alien chased away from this sale with aching heart and empty hands the auctioneer each night moves in a new stock to replace the disappearance of the day before.

Each morning the legation rooms are as unstripped, the cabinets as full to brim-brace, the bins as replete with rare old wines as at the beginning.

This it runs forward until no more sheep appear to be shorn and even the tories have enough. Then the flag comes down and the legation sale is at an end.—New York Journal.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: "The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every man of business interests catered to, while a cheaper journal cannot afford."

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., Chief, says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never go the true remedy until we find it. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Coughs, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery.

They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at W. F. Peter's drug store.

Foreign Visitors.

Seymour has within her gates representatives of the five daughters of the Mikado, the hereditary sovereign of Japan.

About fifty ladies had the fortunate pleasure of meeting them at the lovely home of Mrs. Will Humboldt whose charming hospitality added much to the occasion.

The princess and four sisters were magnificent costumed, beautiful in their oriental splendor, and their manners were grace itself.

They treated the guests to some of their own country's amusements and music after which they served each one present with a "none such" cup of tea, wafer and sweet-meat. They express their intention of returning this winter in full concert.

If you eat what you like, and digest it, you will surely be strong and healthy.

If you don't digest it, you might almost as well not eat, for what good can you do to it if it doesn't nourish you?

If you find that you can't digest it there is a simple help for your stomach.

It is Shaker Digestive Cordial, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon. It has never failed to cure the worst case of indigestion.

Strength and health come from the food you eat, after it has been digested and has gone into the blood.

The best tonic is digested food. The best aid to digestion, Shaker Digestive Cordial.

When you have acid eructations nausea, headache, wind, dizziness, offensive breath, or any other symptoms of dyspepsia, Shaker Digestive Cordial will cure you.

At druggists. Trial bottles 10 cents.

SKATING IN OLD DAYS.

How the Sport Became Popular in New York City.

While skating is now one of the most popular sports of the winter season it is only comparatively a few years since it has become so in this city. When the Central park was being constructed in 1860 and the small artificial lake at Fifty-ninth street was nearly completed, the park commissioners announced that it would be thrown open for the use of skaters. A few men took advantage of the invitation, but women could not be induced to go on the ice. The skates then in use were of the most antique pattern, some of the runners extending a long way in front of the foot, ending in a ringlike curl. In a crowd these skates were quite dangerous, and the first year skating was anything except popular.

During the next winter the larger lake at the upper end of the mall was in such condition that it could be used for skating. Here there was more room for the sport, but still the women could not be induced to venture on the ice. A number of gentlemen determined to overcome this prejudice and organized the New York Skating club, having a regulation patterned skate, almost even with the sole of the boot, which was laced up tight to the ankle, while the objectionable strap was done away with, the runner being fixed to the sole while in use by a ball and socket and held firmly with a clamp. These became popular that winter with the men, and a lighter kind was made for women. The prejudice, however, still existed among the latter, until the club invited a lady, who was a fine skater, from Portland, Me., to visit the Central park and skate with the club. This lady wore a pretty and appropriate dress, similar to that worn in winter by women skaters in Europe, and she created such a sensation by her artistic skating as to attract much notice. The result was that before the season ended several young ladies were induced by the club to venture on the ice, and the season of 1862-3 found many, with pretty costumes, enjoying the sport.

A series of carnivals were arranged by the club during the following season, and skating in the evening became one of the fashionable winter amusements.
